Project Title: Roundy Bites

a sales and ordering system designed for food businesses to efficiently manage andprocesscustomer orders. Employees can input orders directly into the system, which helps organizethemforpreparation, generate receipts using a mini printer, and maintain order records for accuratetracking.The system also provides key sales details like number of orders, products sold, andtotal earnings— all in one place. It supports a variety of food and drink items like donuts, sandwichclubs, espresso,frappes, tea, and more, helping food businesses streamline operations and boost productivity.

Interested?

If you're interested in this website design, kindly contact me.